PROFILE

Lewis is a committed, respectful, reliable and professional filmmaker, who aligns his career objectives with his burning passion for the industry - he deeply values his contribution to every project and takes pride in what is achieved. He works well under pressure, considers himself imaginative, innovative, efficient and consistently develops his well-rounded skill set by surrounding himself with like-minded industry creatives and professionals. His growth has been supported by the South Australian Film Corporation in form of an attachment, and through his wide range of roles and experiences in industry Lewis has worked hard to comprehensively understand every component of production from pre-to-post by experiencing it first-hand. His production experience is growing extensive, and his involvement in interesting projects is frequent.
